

News Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 6, 2006

Contact: Angy Nowicki
Supervising State Park
Ranger

707-538-8734

Annadel State Park and Sugarloaf Ridge State Park Remain Closed

Due to the recent storm damage Sugarloaf Ridge State Park and Annadel State Park will be closed for evaluation. We currently have crews out in the park attempting to open all major access points in both parks. We have suffered major tree failure and mud slides across trails and roadways. Trails are unsafe for the public to use. Please be patient while we survey the damage and attempt to remove debris. We will open the parks as soon as it is safe to do so.

Jack London State Historic Park is OPEN with restrictions. The Museum and historic Beauty Ranch area is open but the Trails are open to foot traffic ONLY. The trails at JACK LONDON SHP are CLOSED to bicycles and horses. A few trees block trails.

The answering machines at each park will be updated daily with the most current information.

Where: Sugarloaf Ridge State Park – 2605 Adobe Canyon Road, Kenwood, CA
707-833-5712

Where: Annadel State Park- 6201 Channel Drive, Santa Rosa, CA
707-539-3911

Where: Jack London State Historic Park, 2400 London Ranch Road, Glen Ellen, CA
707-938-5216

When: January 6, 2006. Failure to comply with this closure will cause serious damage to the trails and my cause injury.

For Information: Please contact the parks directly

Thanks for your Assistance!

-END-
